52-73-64

1. Black-throated Blue Warbler-Dendroica caerulescens 2. 1 accepted JR 17/9/73

3. My backyard, Pueblo, Pueblo Co. Colorado

4. September 13, 1970 5. 3:00to3:10PM

6. While looking out my back window I noticed a warbler sized and shaped blue bird flitting in our mulberry tree. I then observed the black throat, and cheeks on the warbler. The blue on the back and crown was very distinct. The bird flew out onto a dead branch of the neighbors elm tree. I observed the white wing patch and that there was a faint ting of yellow on the edges of the wing feathers. The breast was white down to the under tail coverts.

7. No voice heard.

8. constant movement through the trees.

9. Habatat: General: City
Specific: Elm, ash, and other trees and bushes.

10. Cerulean warbler-white throat
Black-th. gray warbler-no blue on back.

11. 25ft. estimated

12. 7x35 binoculars

13. Light-no problem with sun-cloudy

14. It was a Life bird

15. I couldn't find it in Peterson's fieldguide ( west)

16. Jolan B. TruanIII

17. Yes others agreed

18. No other observers.

19. Birds of N. America and Birds of Colo Vol. II

20. No Photos.

Van A. Truan

Van A. Truan 2510 Elizabeth
June 15, 1973 Pueblo, Colorado 81003